To Whom It May Concern:

Several years ago I met a young missionary couple, T.J. and Christa Kimmel. At that time, I was impressed with the way they presented themselves. They were prompt, efficient and obviously well prepared for mission work. I am thrilled that God has used them in building a good Independent Baptist Church in Jamaica.

In a recent conversation with T.J., I learned that God is leading him into a different ministry. Even though he will not be a resident missionary on one mission field, he will be totally involved in reaching the unreached of the world.

T.J. and Christa are two of the most dedicated and committed missionaries that I have ever known. I am confident that God will use them in their new endeavor.

Sincerely,

Don Sisk
